

ABSTRACT

- 5 A novel method for measuring the oxidation-reduction potential of a solution is described using an indicator dye which changes electromagnetic absorbance over a range of oxidation-reduction potential.